For the last couple of decades, intangible assets, particularly intellectual capital (IC), shows a significant growing and have become one of the fundamental factors in creating corporate sustainable competitive advantages. The purpose of this study is to examine the relationship between intellectual capital and financial performance on stock price.

The data were taken from audited financial report and annual report, and stock price history of 12 publicly listed finance companies from 2010 to 2014 which are available at Indonesia Stock Exchange official website and Indonesian Capital Market Electronic Library.

The result shows a positive relationship between intellectual capital towards financial performance, stock price and a positive relationship between financial performances on company's stock price.
